

BUMPSPARK* PROJECT
GRANTED FULL FISCAL SPONSORSHIP
BY 501(c)(3) FILM/VIDEO ARTS

"All contributions tax-free to the fullest extent of the law."

New York, NY - Headless Film producer Robert Kalm proudly announced today the acceptance of The Bumpspark* Project into the Fiscal Sponsorship Program at the non-profit filmmaker's resource, Film/Video Arts, located in Midtown Manhattan. The F/VA Fiscal Sponsorship Program accepts grants, private and corporate funding on behalf of independent media projects.

"This is one of a small number of very competitive programs in the country. F/VA has been managing money for artists for a long time and we are proud to have made the cut this year," said Mr. Kalm.

A registered 501(c)(3) since 1968, Film/Video Arts provides a fertile environment where emerging and established film, video and digital arts producers of diverse backgrounds can compare notes, further their education, receive financial assistance, and get their hands on affordable, state of the art production and post production equipment.

"All contributions to *Bumpspark, of any size, are now tax deductible to the fullest extent of the law," assured Chloe Kurabi, F/VA's Filmmaker Programs Director.

*Bumpspark, a pilot series for television and the internet, is the latest creation from the Emmy award-winning producer. Part talk show and part reality show, *Bumpspark brings together leading experts from unrelated fields of study to cross-pollinate the ideas of their work and discuss the larger world. The fascinating, expansive conversations are shot documentary style, on location, at secluded environments familiar to the participants, their labs, studios, and homes. A day or two's worth of ruminations is edited down into each hour-long episode. *Bumpspark is inspired by the idea that discoveries often come from unexpected combinations.

F/VA will produce a letter of thanks after the receipt and clearing of each contribution made to The Bumpspark* Project that can then be used for tax purposes.

"The non-profit umbrella means we can make the innovative and intelligent show that we want, something for posterity. PBS said they want to see a pilot. Now we just have to make one."

The Bumpspark Digital Press Kit is available by contacting headlessfilm@gmail.com. Contributions can be made to The Bumpspark Project by contacting either Robert Kalm or Chloe Kurabi directly.
